Arkansas in for Touch of Fall Weather

Little Rock, Oct. 4 — (AP) — Arkansas is in for another touch of fall weather.

And, says the U.S. weather bureau here, the cool snap that moved into the state last night may be the forerunner for a long season of chilly weather.

The first frost of the season is forecast for North Arkansas tonight. A pepping rain hit most sections of the state last night. It was followed by a drop in temperature. In Little Rock the mercury dropped 12 degrees in 90 minutes — from 78

Says Defense May Not Mean Inflation

Denver, Oct. 4 — (AP) — Republican National Chairman Guy Gabrielson says American defenses can be rebuilt without an inflation ruinous to the nation's economy and without further trend toward socialism.

But, he adds, to achieve it a Republican-controlled congress must be elected next month.

Kicking off his own seven state western tour and the Colorado campaign to reelect Senator Eugene D. Millikin, Gabrielson said in a dinner speech last night that Democrats have their backs to the wall this year.

The national chairman said a Republican congress would block "the Truman program to socialize farmers, doctors and businessmen." It not only would support defense strengthening but would fight "inroads of insidious Communist doctrines" at home.

er South Korean authorities executed political prisoners, Lee said some reformed Communists were executed for returning to the Red banner after the invasion of the republic.

The public information official said the figure would not run as high as 30,000 to 40,000. He added that the disappearance of perhaps 50,000 loyal South Koreans does not mean all were executed by the Reds.

The coolest spot in Arkansas this morning was Fayetteville which reported a low of 43 degrees. Other low temperatures:

Little Rock 55; Pine Bluff 56; El Dorado 57; Blytheville 48; Fort Smith 53; Walnut Ridge 46; and Texarkana 61.

The crop reporting service said today cotton picking in some sections again has been delayed because of the wet weather.

Ballots Being Counted in Levee District

Marion, Oct. 4 — (AP) — Ballots were being counted today after property owners turned out in eight counties to vote on a proposed multi-million dollar drainage project in the St. Francis levee district.

The special election was held yesterday with about 16,000 eligible to vote. But the ballot count isn't expected to be fully compiled until tomorrow.

The $81,000,000 project has been authorized by congress, but no federal money has been appropriated for it. The complex plan includes hundreds of engineering features.

The Memphis district of the army engineers said it would aim to improve the area that lies between main line Mississippi river levees and the St. Francis river.

A large pumping station near Whitehall would be a major part of the project. The station would speed interior drainage through a system of feeder culverts.

from Soviet-dominated Manchuria along the highway over the Yalu river frontier.

General MacArthur's headquarters announced the third division had arrived in the Far East command from the American west coast. A spokesman would not say where or when.

But it obviously had movement orders before the war took a decisive turn in mid-September with the Allied beachhead landings at Inchon.

Official sources declined again to say whether Americans and other United Nations liberation forces would join the South Koreans above 38.

American strength in the war theater now is six divisions plus a regimental combat team.

British, Australian and Philippine ground forces also are in South Korea. Thai and French units have been assigned to the operation.

South Koreans captured Kosong, 50 airline miles north of the border along the East coast. Patrols stabbed still farther north in a drive which South Koreans say will go all the way to the Manchuria border.

AP Correspondent William Jordan reported from the front that 4,000 Red troops are digging into strong defenses southeast of Tongchon. That town is 25 miles north of Kosong and about halfway to Wonsan where the Reds are reported building up for a major stand.

American marines remained in captured Uijongbu, 20 miles south of the border in the west coastal area. Supplies and equipment flowed into the rubbled Uijongbu from Inchon port.

The Leathernocks captured the town about 12 miles north of Seoul Tuesday after smashing the heaviest resistance the Reds have put up since their September foldup.

Other American forces on the northwestern edge of Kumpo peninsula, northwest of Seoul, are within 15 miles of 38.

Bad flying weather cut down allied air operations. Most fighters were grounded Wednesday morning.

Allied warplanes on Tuesday blasted heavy highway traffic moving south toward the North Korean capital of Pyongyang from the Manchuria border.

JAYNE'S P.W. KILL PIN WORMS

HADACOL — One of the Greatest Blessings of the Times!

Just a Few of Thousands Upon Thousands of Interesting Records of Folks With Such Deficiencies Who Have Been Helped really has put a stop to her neuritis pains. She was in a very bad condition with aches and pains and unable to sleep and was forced to give up her position as a practical nurse. She had severe pains in wrists and stiffness in her hips, being almost unable to walk. Now after taking one bottle of HADACOL, she is able to do her own housework. She most enthusiastically recommends HADACOL to all sufferers from neuritis pains.

Floyd Mabe, 14014 South 7th Street, St. Louis, Missouri: "For some time after a wartime injury I had been troubled with neuritis pains in my legs and could not work. Nothing seemed to help me until I tried HADACOL. After taking a half bottle, I seemed to feel better. My wife told me it was only my imagination, but I continued to take HADACOL and up to the present have taken 15 bottles. Now I feel fine with no more pains in my legs." (HADACOL is so effective because it relieves the REAL CAUSE of neuritis aches when due to such deficiencies. Why don't you give HADACOL a chance to help you?)

Link Robinson (a steel worker for over 20 years), 519 Lindsey, Newport, Kentucky: "When your stomach is in bad shape as mine, couldn't eat, gas pains, stomach bloating and nervousness, then your body doesn't get the proper foods it needs. My boss told me about HADACOL and I started taking it immediately. After the second bottle I could tell a definite improvement. Now I can eat anything I want to. Best of all I haven't got those terrific gas pains and stomach bloating."

Mrs. John Gears, 650 Ursuline Street, New Orleans, Louisiana:

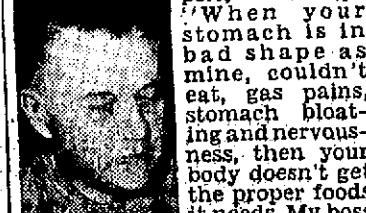

"I had such a nervous stomach I was unable to eat regularly. Lots of times I was unable to hold any food on my stomach. Then I heard about HADACOL. After the first few bottles I could tell a definite improvement. Now my stomach doesn't trouble me at all. I eat anything I want. HADACOL is wonderful for me after suffering so." (A big improvement is often noticed within a few days' time. One of the many advantages of HADACOL is that continued use helps prevent such stomach distress from returning. Don't continue to suffer. Start taking HADACOL today!)

Mrs. L. Crivani, 327 N. 14th Street, Springfield, Illinois: "I am elated with the wonderful results obtained by taking HADACOL. I had emotional indigestion, which is stomach distress and makes a person feel down and out. HADACOL seemed to be prepared for my ailment, for it made a new woman of me."

Mrs. E. Hoxworth, a skilled maintenance man in W. Texas:

"I almost had to give up my job because of suffering from stomach distress. I couldn't hold my food, as no food agreed with me. After hearing about HADACOL and completing a second bottle, I began to feel better and regain the weight I lost, and suffered no more indigestion. I now take HADACOL regularly to help stay well." (Why don't you try HADACOL?)

Mrs. J. Scholinski, 514 Krug, Ottumwa, Iowa: "My daughter, Marilyn Sue, is five years old and for some time lacked appetite, was generally run-down. Since giving her HADACOL, we have noticed wonderful results. She has a much better appetite, eats everything on the table and doesn't seem tired like she used to. Incidentally, she likes to take her HADACOL, too." (Kids sure do like HADACOL.)

LeBlanc, eminent statesman of Louisiana and creator of this great new HADACOL nutritional formula — it's at last possible to relieve the REAL CAUSE of such ailments as neuritis pains, stomach distress, gas pains, heartburn, indigestion, insomnia, certain nervous disorders and a general run-down condition due to lack of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin.

$109,200 Suit of Singer to Federal Jury

Hot Springs, Oct. 4 —(P)—The $109,200 suit of a Coffeyville, Kas., masseuse against Metropolitan Opera Singer Marjorie Lawrence probably will go to a federal court jury here this morning.

Mrs. Francis Bunn filed suit against the polio stricken singer, charging that Miss Lawrence had not lived up to a verbal agreement.

Testimony ended yesterday and Judge John E. Miller instructed attorneys to present closing arguments this morning.

Testifying from her wheel chair, the singer said yesterday that she had paid Mrs. Bunn a sufficient amount to cover cost of treatments. She denied that she was cured by Mrs. Bunn or that she had made an agreement to introduce her to Hollywood and the Metropolitan Opera company. Miss Lawrence's husband, Dr. Thomas King, gave similar testimony.

Dr. George D. Fletcher testified that Miss Lawrence, completely paralyzed in 1941, showed some improvement for a few years, but that there has been little change in her condition in the last five years.

U. S. Building Higher and Higher

By MAX HALL (For James Marlow)

Washington, Oct. 4 —(P)—How far above ground can mankind build?

This year we are stabbing the heavens with new structures of awesome height.

A television antenna in Atlanta has shot up to 1,057 feet. This is higher than the Chrysler building, which is the No. 2 skyscraper of the world.

But the No. 1 skyscraper, the Empire State building, acting as though it were resolved not to be overtaken, is now hurling itself into the New York sky 217 feet higher than before. That is, a television tower is being built on top.

A few weeks ago, the Empire State was 1,250 feet tall. Last night it was 1,310 feet. Any minute now, it may become the first man-made structure to reach a quarter of a mile (1,320 feet). By Christmas the building is expected to attain its new full-grown stature of 1,467 feet.

Even this may be surpassed in a few years by new television towers, though plans for a 1,520-footer near Des Moines, Iowa, have been abandoned because of the expense. The cost is great, but engineers say that such heights are quite feasible.

I have been looking into this matter of tall structures, and after talking with engineers and government officials, and consulting reference books, I have written down a list of the seven tallest in the world.

I am not sure this list is accurate. For one thing, there may be somewhere in the world—tall military towers that are being kept hush-hush for security reasons. But the seven tallest non-military structures, so far as I can make out, are as follows:

1. Empire State building, New York City, now about 1,310 feet, soon to be 1,467 feet.

2. Television tower at Atlanta, built for Station WCON-TV, not yet operating commercially, 1,057 feet.

3. Chrysler building, New York City, 1,046 feet.

4. Radio tower at Budapest, Hungary, 1,030 feet (This has been reported as 1,065 feet but the Hungarian legation told me 1,030).

5. Eiffel tower, Paris, 984 feet.

6. Television and radio tower at Station WKY, Oklahoma City, 962 feet.

7. The "60 Wall Tower," an office building, at 60 Wall street, New York City, 950 feet.

Happening to be in Atlanta the other day, I went to see the 1,057-foot beauty there. Besides being unusual in size, it is unusual in location. Instead of being out in the country, the tower stands on a knoll beside some railroad tracks only a mile or so north-east of the center of the business district.

It is quite an experience to stand a couple of blocks away from the structure and let your eye sweep leisurely up from the base to the top (also it exerts the neck muscles).

Like the WKY antenna in Oklahoma City, the Atlanta tower stands slim and pencil-like — no tapering like the Eiffel tower — and is supported by guy wires. Up to the 800-foot level it is three-sided, 14 feet on a side, with a small elevator for the use of repairmen. Above that is the antenna, slenderer than the tower, and no doubt windier for the repairmen.

U. S. Asked to Help Slavs in Food Crisis

Washington, Oct. 4 —(P)—The United States is being asked to help Yugoslavia meet a threatened food crisis following a disastrous summer drought.

Officials said yesterday that Ambassador Vladimir Popovic, who recently returned from Belgrade, has conferred with state department officials twice within the last few days. U. S. Ambassador George Allen was reported to be holding similar talks in Belgrade.

In line with the policy of helping Communist Yugoslavia against Soviet pressure resulting from Marshal Tito's split with the Kremlin, officials told a reporter some U. S. help probably would be forthcoming.

But what form it would take was reported to be undecided. Yugoslavia is not eligible for aid from the economic cooperation administration (ECA). She has received loans or pledges from the export-import bank, but these are earmarked for industrial expansion.

Seoul, Korea, Oct. 3 —(UP)—Marine Gen. Clifton B. Cates warned today that the war in Korea is "far from over" and that American troops still are suffering casualties.

Gen. Cates said there was a "false impression that this war was over when Seoul was captured and everything was buttoned up."

"But there still are several intact North Korean units fighting desperate rear guard actions and we are having men killed."

Gen. Cates toured the front lines by helicopter earlier today and visited forward marine units.

DOROTHY DIX Corporal Punishment

Dear Miss Dix: Laugh if you must, but here is a spanked wife who loves her husband. I was the kind of wife who, blessed with an adoring and perfect husband and three lovely children thought more of parties and other men than she did her duty to her family.

My house was sadly neglected and my husband and the maid had all the care of home and children. One night the worm turned. My husband followed me to a party and after severely beating the man I was with brought me home. When we got in he sat down in the first chair he spied and turned me over his knee and paddled me soundly. It was a very painful and embarrassing experience for me, but angry as I was I could see that he was doing right and from that time I have been a real wife and mother. I loathe a wife-beater, but I think any husband has the right to spank a philandering wife before she goes too far. It cured me. Am I right or wrong in my belief?

MRS. J. Mc L. R. Answer: The proof of the pudding is in the eating, says the old proverb, and if a good spanking brought you to your senses and kept you from wrecking your home it was evidently the remedy indicated for the occasion.

Some Woman Need It Like you, I am violently opposed to wife-beating but every now and then I come across some woman who is simply crying out loud for a good thrashing. She is acting like a spoiled child and needs to be disciplined.

Dear Miss Dix: My husband and I have a very dear friend in another state who wants to take our boy of 14 and educate him and give him a father's care in every way possible. My husband's work takes him away from home nearly all the time, and our son is at an age when he needs a man's guidance. This friend has always loved boys and has no children. He is devoted to our son. He is highly educated and a man of fine character. But this is our problem: His wife is violently opposed to his taking our boy. Says it will break into the privacy of her home. The man says that he sees all his life's ambition in the future of our child and wants to keep him in spite of his wife's objections. But I do not want to be the means of coming between a man and his wife.

PUZZLED WIFE Answer: If the wife objects to her husband taking the child, that settles the question, so far as you are concerned. Nothing that the man could possibly give the boy would compensate for the misery he would undergo in a home where he was the source of discord between a husband and wife.

You could not hope that such a woman would treat the boy with even common kindness, to say nothing of giving him any love and Washington, Oct. 4 —(P)—Rep. Vinson (D-Ga.) said today no one—not even a congressman—should hold a commission in the active reserves unless he can be ready to reach for his tin hat when the bugle blows.

Vinson told a reporter he hopes the route-armed services committee which he heads will prompt the armed services into "screening" their organized reserves.

By the 1921 census there were 4,968,552 Roman Catholics in Canada.

plined like a child. You know the kind of women I mean. Women with lots of good in them but who are fault-finding and complaining and never satisfied with anything; women who won't settle down, but who insist on running around to parties every night; women who keep their husbands in debt with their extravagance; women who neglect their homes, their husbands, and their children.

These women are selfish, self-willed and determined to have their own way, and they get away with murder because their husbands are so afraid of scenes, but practically every one of them could be turned into a good wife if the men whom they are married had nerve enough to make them behave themselves. Not necessarily by corporal punishment, though undoubtedly there are many cases in which a razor strop would save a divorce.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Should a person contemplating matrimony inform the intended wife or husband that there is insanity in her or his family before the marriage takes place, or should this be kept a secret until after the marriage?

tenderness and understanding. What a child needs far more than anything that money would buy him are just these things, particularly at his time of life. For at 14 boys are enigmas, even to themselves. They are hard to control. Difficult to live with. And the need mothering far more than they did when they were babes.

Far, far better to keep your boy with you. He is your responsibility and you haven't the right to pass the buck to anyone else. Don't regret that you can't give him as much money and as many indulgences as this man can. You can give him love and a peaceful home. And that's the best thing that any child can have.

Answer: Every law of decency and honor demands that any man or woman who is marrying should tell the prospective wife or husband anything that might affect the success of the marriage. (Released by the Associated Press.)

Fair Enough

New York, Oct. 4 — Congressmen Harold H. Velde, of Illinois, a Republican, recently caused the publication in the Congressional Record, at a cost of $287 to the taxpayers, a comprehensive and, I sincerely believe, truthful, review of the Communist penetration of our government under the Roosevelt regime, written by Martin Dies, the chairman of the old special house committee on un-American activities. Mr. Velde indicated that the value of this summary to the public as an informative, historical record justified the expense. I agree with him. I shall have to condense it, even omitting important phases of Mr. Dies' statement, but will not misrepresent his meaning as the Communist smear campaign habitually does in its hounding anti-Communists.

"In 1933," Mr. Dies said, "I became intensely interested in Communist infiltration of labor unions and in government service. I introduced a resolution and the house, on May 26, 1938, established the committee. Immediately, I encountered serious opposition. The Democratic members of the committee on accounts, upon instructions from the White House, reduced the requested budget from $100,000 to $25,000. My uncle, Jack Dies, said: 'Mr. Dies, I hate to advise you to abandon this project, but you are preparing to antagonize powerful forces in this country and you will be harassed as few men have been harassed.'

"Well, I cannot back up. I telephoned the attorney general, to ask for competent and reliable investigators, and he sent me two men. I received a telephone call, however, shortly before their arrival telling me both men were members of the Communist party. When they arrived, I put them through the third degree in the presence of the entire committee and finally they admitted they were members of the Communist party who worked in the department of justice. I knew the administration was under the control of Moscow propaganda."

I have skim a large portion of the review, coming to my comment on the press coverage of Washington which is, on the whole, the most corrupt, in the sense of being deliberately angled and untruthful, in all our journalism, although the Washington corps are widely and erroneously believed to be the soul of propriety.

"We began to investigate the reporters who covered our proceedings, because they wrote so many false stories and sent them out. You know what we discovered? The New York chapter of the newspaper guild was completely Communist controlled. Our committee was assigned a Communist reporter and they garbled account to make the committee appear ridiculous and undermine it because they were working with the administration in power."

I should like to stipulate that I discount Mr. Dies' indication that the reporters all were Communists. Overwhelmingly, however, they were, as he said, propagandists for the administration and against the committee, and their work was a spectacular disgrace. One of the specialists was a drunken misanthrope representing a midwestern paper of great and ancient prestige. This journalist drew a big salary, drank champagne, dressed fastidiously, but permitted his son, the child of his estranged wife, to toll a leaf-raker on a relief project. He was a faithless fiduciary but only typical of a gang of ink-stained blackguards who, trusted with a mission to inform, have deceived the public instead.

"We discovered that 2,500 agents, stooges and minions of a foreign dictator were on the government payroll, occupying, in many instances, key positions in the state department, the justice department and the interior department. I went down to the White House. I said: 'Mr. President, here is a list of these people. We have raided the organization and we have their membership records. There can be any doubt about it. If you understand the Communists as I understand them, you will know that they are in the government for one purpose alone, to steal important secrets and transmit them to Moscow.'"

"The President was furious. I was amazed at his anger. 'Well,' he said, 'I have never seen a man that had such ideas. There is nothing wrong with the Communists. Some of the best friends I have got are Communists.' That is a truthful account. He made that statement. 'The President refused to discharge the Communists.' I indicated congress to withhold appropriations to pay their salaries. The executive department defied congress and refused to fire them. They were kept on the payroll, when we were working on the atom bomb. And still there are people so dumb as to believe Stalin doesn't have the secret of the bomb. You may not realize it but in the White House, itself, one of the secretaries was a Communist."

In view of the alterations which were wrought in the reputation of John L. Lewis after he broke with Roosevelt in a jealous rage in 1940, Mr. Dies' statements on his attitude toward Communists in the C. I. O., of which Lewis was the first national chairman, are submitted as follows: "I was able to trace a number of Communists who went to Leningrad at the expense of the Moscow government and received special instructions in labor agitation and return. When Lewis broke with the A. F. of L., he turned to these well-trained Communist agitators to form the rank and file of his organizers. Some 50,000 had joined unions to seize strategic positions. They controlled 21 C. I. O. international unions. Eighteen members of the executive board, the most powerful organization within the C. I. O., were members of the party. I telephoned John L. Lewis and went to his office. I knew Lee Pressman was a member. He was the chief attorney for Lewis. Dies said he asked Lewis to cooperate to expel 'stooges of a foreign dictator.' Lewis, he said, became angry and said: 'The C. I. O. does not need you to tell us how to run it. Yes, we have Communists. We have Baptists, Methodists, Democrats and Republicans.'"

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

Philadelphia, Oct. 3 — (AP) — The big question before the opening of the 1950 World Series was: "Who's going to relieve the reliever?" But that may be an injustice to Jim Konstanty, the surprise selection of Manager Eddie Sawyer of the Phillies. . . . Casey Stengel expressedly stated: "Now we gotta see if we can hit that — stuff he throws."

Stengel may have been reading a surprise himself in nominating Hank Bauer for an outfield spot in the Yanks lineup. "I dunno," said Casey as he tried to make up his mind. "I put him in here a couple of weeks ago and got a couple of good hits. . . . Who's gonna hit that — both right and left handers?" Stengel, incidentally, hasn't seen the Phillies perform this season. . . . When the Yanks gave them a trimming during spring training, Casey wasn't feeling well and stayed in camp.

No Answer
The choice of Konstanty, reviewed one story of the celebrated 1929 series which Connie Mack sprang Howard Ehmke on the Cubs. . . . Al Simmons saw Ehmke warming up and asked the veteran manager: "You aren't going to start him, are you, Mr. Mack?" . . . Connie just gave him a benevolent look and answered: "Why, yes, Al, if you approve." The answer didn't leave Simmons speechless. Ehmke's pitching did.

Heard At Headquarters
Pie Traynor, who seemed more interested in touting Edward Charles as "one of the greatest fighters who ever lived" hazards the opinion that having an outside business is harmful to ball players. "A man can't pay attention to two things at once," says Pie. "His nervous can't stand it — especially if he's worn down physically." . . . The Chicago White Sox organization will meet soon after the series to decide on the 1950 manager and settle other problems. . . . But Billy Evans, who thinks the Tigers may have done a bit better than could have been expected this year, doesn't look for any immediate changes at Detroit. . . . Red Rolfe has a swell camp up in New Hampshire and probably will stay there for a couple of months, says Evans. . . . Birdie Tebbets cracks about the "juvenile delinquents" and "morose malcontents" on the Red Sox still are the principal subject of discussion in the Boston delegation. . . . "It sounds like a proper Bostonian speaking," said some scribe. "The good thing is that the guys he was talking about won't understand him."

Casey At The Word
Stengel speaking again: "I hated to give up Henrichs (on that deal concerning additional players) but I couldn't use him as a runner and I could use Hopp. . . . They said they only had 23 men. . . . But what the hell, I've known clubs that had only four players and twenty bums."

ARKANSAN WINS
New York, Oct. 4 — An Arkansas performer was one of the winners in the national contest at Madison Square Garden last night. . . . Bill Hancock, Ozark, Ark., won first place in steer wrestling with a time of 7.4 seconds.

Waste piles around gold mines of the "Rand" in South Africa have been estimated at 1,000,000,000 tons in weight. . . . A death in the family of early English millers was made known by leaving the windmills in an "X" position several days.

possible. But I've been thinking that maybe we've been wrong in suspecting Northcott of being up to something. He seems to be all for us. Of late, anyhow." "I guess," Edie said, "that I've just got a nasty suspicious nature."

Northcott's cruiser was long, white and commodious, a thing of clean proportions, polished metal and black leather. It was the color of dried cherry-pits. She was moored in the East River, and Edie and Reagan arrived late Friday afternoon. Northcott greeted them.

For once he did not give an impression of complete grayness. He was attired in a blue jacket and lined slacks. Even in this careless garb, however, he still looked somewhat forbidding.

"I'm glad you could come," he said. "We're thinking of cruising off Montauk. How does that sound?"

"Come and meet the rest of our party," said Northcott.

On the afterdeck they were presented to Mrs. Northcott, a tall, red-haired woman, a handsome rather than pretty, and to a couple named Winwood.

"We've another member somewhere," Northcott said, "but I don't know where he's gone. Well, I suppose you'd like to freshen up a bit. I'll show you to your cabins."

WHEN Edie came back on deck, she got a pleasant surprise. Sitting in a wicker chair, talking to Mrs. Winwood, was Gil Sumner.

"Why, Gil?" she said. "How nice. You're here. I expected to find you here. I didn't even know you knew Mr. Northcott."

"Known him for years," Gil told her. "He was a few classes ahead of me in college. But I haven't seen him much since then. We've only—sort of renewed our acquaintance lately."

"Well, treat him nicely, Gil," Edie laughed. "He's our best client."

"I know," said Gil and, for just a second, Edie thought that there was seriousness in his voice. (To Be Continued)

Phil Hurling Choice Is Big Gamble

By JACK HAND

Philadelphia, Oct. 4 — (AP) — Jim Konstanty, rubber-armed Phillies relief hero, is Manager Eddie Sawyer's stunning choice to open against the New York Yankees' Vic Raschi today in the most daring gamble since the 1929 World Series.

Not since Connie Mack started his own players by calling on obscure Howard Ehmke to pitch and win the opener for the A's against Chicago 21 years ago has a pennant-winning manager taken such a chance.

A sell-out crowd of 53,167 will see bespectacled Jim try to "pull an Ehmke." Game time was 1:00 p. m. (EST), with a promise of cloudy and cooler weather. Millions more were to watch and listen at home on television and radio.

They were betting 9 to 5 that Konstanty and the Phils wouldn't win the opener. And the Phil Whiz Kids were 13 to 5 underdogs in the best-of-seven series.

Sawyer skipped Robin Roberts, his 20-game winning flag clincher, to give him more rest, and settled on Konstanty, his faithful bullpen savior. Enjoying his best season at the age of 33, big Jim pitched in a record-breaking 74 games. Yet he didn't start once, and hasn't started a game since 1948 at Toronto. He hasn't been a big league starter since he was with the Boston Braves in 1946.

"I thought Jim had the best chance against this type of free-swinging club," Sawyer explained. The skipper reached his decision 15 minutes before yesterday's workout after a meeting with his coaching staff, scouts, Konstanty and Roberts.

Never much of a success until he started working for mild-tempered Sawyer, Konstanty is essentially a control pitcher with good breaking stuff. A few curves and an occasional fast ball break a steady diet of slider and palm balls coming out of an exaggerated overhand motion.

The selection of Konstanty was no sentimental gesture to a faithful worker. Sawyer picked Konstanty because he remembered the way he baffled the American league sluggers in the all-star game, how he pulled the Phils out of trouble day after day. This was the man Sawyer said could make the difference in the Phil success story, although he had been hit hard in his last few trials.

The news surprised Konstanty as much as the "experts," it never was discussed, although Sawyer said he "wrestled with the idea" during the final month.

Konstanty, arriving early for the workout, was called in to a corner by Sawyer who asked, "do you think you could pitch the opener?" "Jim is experienced and the boys have confidence in him," Sawyer said. I'd rather go with him than try somebody else who might only last four innings. This way I have Roberts ready and rested for the second game."

Although Konstanty (16-7) did not start all year he did pitch nine innings against Pittsburgh Aug. 25 and 10 relief innings in a 19-inning night game against Cincinnati Sept. 15. In the minors he started regularly.

The Konstanty story created such a stir that changes in the eligible player list were almost overlooked. The Phils were given permission by the Yanks to use Outfielder Jack Mayo and Lefthanded Pitcher Jack Thompson in place of the ailing Bill Nicholson and Carl Simmons, the 19-game winner, now in the Army.

Simmons will attend the game on a 10-day furlough. The $65,000 bonus pitcher may even work batting game.

D. A. Gean Is Man of Week in Sports

As a result of his feat in winning the Rock Creek invitational golf tournament last week over a strong field of players from Little Rock and neighboring cities, D. A. Gean, formerly of Hope, was named "The Man of the Week in Arkansas Sports" over radio station KLRA Sunday, October 1.

It was the first championship victory for the veteran golfer who was awarded the F. K. Darragh trophy, although he has been a contender in several tournaments in Little Rock in recent years. He is a member of the Rock Creek team which has won the Greater Little Rock club championship for three successive years.

Gean was editor and publisher of "The Hope Daily Press" a number of years ago and is still remembered by many friends in and around this city. He is a brother-in-law of Leonard Ellis, Hope Insurance man.

Four Years of Picketing at Studio Ends

Hollywood, Oct. 4 — (AP) — Four years of picketing at major film studios has finally ended.

The AFL Carpenters union began picketing the studios Sept. 23, 1946, in their strike for recognition as bargaining agent for studio carpenters and some other workers. The union was involved in a jurisdictional tangle with the AFL International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees, which claimed it represented these workers.

Carpenters pickets were withdrawn yesterday with this explanation by James Skelton, union official: "The national labor relations board has certified the AFL International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees as the bargaining agent for the carpenters in the major studios. We have filed a suit in the U. S. Supreme court against the board move and the elections on which it was predicated. So we withdrew the pickets, pending the outcome of the litigation."

During the height of the protracted studio strike there were considerable violence and numerous arrests.

Aged Doctor Dies at Walnut Ridge

Walnut Ridge, Oct. 4 — (AP) — Dr. Joel Cameron Land, 77, who had delivered more than 4,000 babies in his more than 50 years of practice in Lawrence county, died yesterday in a Memphis hospital.

He owned the Walnut Ridge clinic, was a medical corps captain in World War I and was a former president of the Northeast Arkansas Medical association.

practice, but Sawyer said he would not ask Commissioner A. B. Chandler to restore him to the active list.

In return for letting Mayo and Thompson play, the Yanks can use Johnny Hopp, acquired after the Sept. 1 deadline. To make Hopp eligible, Manager Casey Stengel took Tommy Henrich, hobbled with a bad knee off the list.

Stengel said it was an "awful hard thing to do." Still he had to strengthen his club with a first baseman — Outfielder like Hopp as a pinch hitter. A year ago Henrich played first base and won the opener against Don Newcombe with a ninth-inning home run.

Raschi (21-8) a powerful right-handed speedster, will contrast sharply with Konstanty's dancing and dipping stuff. Big Vic pitched most of Stengel's key games. Troubled by a sore shoulder in the last two weeks, he still whipped Boston on a six-hitter in a vital Sept. 24 game.

Bobcat 'B' Team Loses to Texarkana

The Bobcat 'B' s journeyed to Texarkana last night for a game with the Porker Seconds and came away on the short end of a 19-0 score.

Meanwhile the Bobcats were put through stiff workouts in preparation for the Gurdon "Go-Devils" here Friday night.

On successive weekends the Bobcats play at home against Malvern and Texarkana and then the schedule is away with the exception of Magnolia which comes here on November 3.

The FORMER MISS FREY

By Edwin Ruff
Copyright 1950 by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Edith Flood, the former Miss Frey, has inherited 51 per cent of her father's advertising agency with her two brothers, Jeff and Myron, owning the remainder of the stock. Edie's husband, Peter Flood, is in time setting a divorce, and Miss Frey, Edie's executive, has asked Edie to be his wife. But Edie has not given him her final answer. Meanwhile, business troubles threaten the firm. Fred Flood, Edie's brother, has taken the blame by telling him to "take his business somewhere else."

XXVII
AFTER Edie Frey spoke, Mr. Lyons began to hedge. "I'll tell you what I'm prepared to do, Miss Frey. I'll give your agency another chance. If you can bring—"

Edie's eyes, like green darts, stopped him. "It isn't a question of another chance. Frankly, we don't feel that our position requires one. And we're not going on setting up straw men for you to knock over. As Mr. Reagan has said, we've brought you some good campaigns lately. They represent our best thinking." She pointed to the ads that were the agency's choice. "There is one of them. You don't want it and you didn't want the others. I'm sorry, but we can't do any more."

Mr. Lyons almost wriggled in his chair. And Edie knew that she had him licked.

"Well," he said, pulling one of the advertisements toward him. "If you think this is good bread advertising, all right. Mind you, though, I'm not giving in entirely. I'm not enthusiastic about this material. I'll need alteration. A lot of alteration."

Edie let him save face as best he could. "We're perfectly willing to make alterations, Mr. Lyons," she said. "When they're justified and when we know why we're making them."

Lyons fussed on for a few minutes.

SEVERAL days later after the "Lyons affair," as that episode had come to be known at the agency, Jeff Frey went on a short vacation. While he was gone Edie and Reagan received an unexpected invitation from Mr. Northcott to go for a week-end cruise with him.

"Looks as if we might be getting onto a better footing with friend Northcott," said Reagan. "He doesn't ask everybody out on that swanky boat of his."

"You don't think he might have a bit of ex-grinding to do?" Reagan's eyes clouded. "That's possible. But I've been thinking that maybe we've been wrong in suspecting Northcott of being up to something. He seems to be all for us. Of late, anyhow."

Planned Overthrow Government

Hope, Oct. 3 —(P)— Judge Musmanno today re-opened Communist documents which he said "establish beyond question that the Communist Party in America is a war machine with its primary and final objective the overthrow of the government."

Musmanno made public photographs of documents found on August 31 on the Pittsburgh headquarters of the Communist Party of Western Pennsylvania.

He said 17 of the papers were by Musmanno to the American activities committee.

Musmanno, Allegheny county judge, is the Democratic nominee for lieutenant governor of Pennsylvania in the November election. He was a German war criminal and has waged a vigorous Communist campaign from the bench.

In his discoveries, Musmanno said:

"The literature found in the Communist office said: 'In Korea the people have the opportunity of witnessing the role of the Soviet Union in the defeat of the Japanese and the Soviet occupation of Korea, as contrasted with the role of American troops in the American military authority.'"

Another document is a paper entitled 'Ideological questions on the struggle for peace' which is provocative of the puppet government of South Korea following by U. S. armed intervention against the People's Democratic Republic can be fully understood in the light of U. S. imperialism today, its drive for domination and its advanced preparation for a new world war."

The document was one of several Judge Musmanno said he found on the office desk of Steve Nelson.

Steve Nelson, chairman of the Western Pennsylvania Communist party, was arrested the day of the raid on party headquarters, now is free on $10,000 bond on a charge of sedition which was filed by Musmanno.

Washington, Oct. 4 —(P)— Bigger pension checks started going out yesterday to some 3,000,000 social security beneficiaries. They were authorized by the recent act of Congress liberalizing benefits.

The total increase will amount to some $50,000 a month. The first checks, dated Oct. 3, went out from treasury regional offices in six cities. They totalled approximately $112,000,000 against last month's $82,000,000.

The vast majority of the 3,000,000 beneficiaries are persons over 65 years old. The average check under the law will be $46 against a previous $26 average.

Nelson, chairman of the Western Pennsylvania Communist party, was arrested the day of the raid on party headquarters, now is free on $10,000 bond on a charge of sedition which was filed by Musmanno.

Washington, Oct. 3 —(P)— A simple, ironclad priority system was imposed on industry today as a bottleneck-buster for the $30,000,000,000-a-year defense program.

With this action, the national production authority felt it had provided the basic kit of tools needed to keep the defense production drive in high gear despite prospective shortages.

A single priority rating — identified by the symbol "do", for "defense order" — will give military contracts let by the armed forces or the atomic energy commission the right of way in any defense plant.

The NPA regulation, announced by Administrator William H. Harrison last night, requires every company to accept "do" orders and make delivery on time. Civilian work must be sidetracked if necessary.

Officials said they knew of no delays on munitions work thus far. But shortages of steel, copper, aluminum and other vital materials are expected to develop as the arms program picks up speed.

"Our national defense effort has first call on the nation's resources," Harrison said in announcing the priority order.

A manufacturer who receives a "do" contract may serve the rating on his suppliers, to obtain parts, raw materials and accessories; and the subcontractors in turn may use it on their suppliers.

Companies which already hold military orders are expected to flood the Pentagon with requests for that in the next few days, simply because it will insure them against any future breakdown in the flow of materials.

The production tool-kit now includes:

1. Defense loan guarantees, under which producers may apply to federal reserve banks or branches for the funds needed to swing big contracts, expand plants or buy new equipment. Government insurance of these loans is provided.

2. An inventory control order, barring the hoarding of key materials beyond normal, minimum working supplies.

3. Today's "NAP regulation No. 2," giving the military top claim on materials and plant capacity.

4. A slowly emerging allocation system, under which NPA will earmark certain tonnages of scarce materials for vital defense programs.

The coolest weather of the autumn season chilled most of the western part of the nation today but it was mild in the eastern and southern states.

Temperatures dipped as low as 19 above in Montana as the cold plains into the north central air spread southeastward from the northern Rockies and northern states. Readings were below freezing in many parts of the cool belt.

There were sharp drops over some of the east central states from yesterday's summer temperatures. Chicago's early morning low was in the low 40's as compared with a high of 83 yesterday.

Northwest Pacific and readings of the cold air extended into the near freezing were reported in some areas.

Light snow continued in southern Montana and showers preceded the eastern movement of the cold air. Fair weather was reported in other sections of the country. The worst autumn snowstorm on record hit southeastern Manitoba yesterday, with nearly five inches of snow at Winnipeg and seven inches at Gimli, 75 miles north.

Larger Social Security Checks Are Mailed Out

Washington, Oct. 4 —(P)— Bigger pension checks started going out yesterday to some 3,000,000 social security beneficiaries. They were authorized by the recent act of Congress liberalizing benefits.

The total increase will amount to some $50,000 a month. The first checks, dated Oct. 3, went out from treasury regional offices in six cities. They totalled approximately $112,000,000 against last month's $82,000,000.

The vast majority of the 3,000,000 beneficiaries are persons over 65 years old. The average check under the law will be $46 against a previous $26 average.

Nelson, chairman of the Western Pennsylvania Communist party, was arrested the day of the raid on party headquarters, now is free on $10,000 bond on a charge of sedition which was filed by Musmanno.

Washington, Oct. 3 —(P)— A simple, ironclad priority system was imposed on industry today as a bottleneck-buster for the $30,000,000-a-year defense program.

With this action, the national production authority felt it had provided the basic kit of tools needed to keep the defense production drive in high gear despite prospective shortages.

A single priority rating — identified by the symbol "do", for "defense order" — will give military contracts let by the armed forces or the atomic energy commission the right of way in any defense plant.

The NPA regulation, announced by Administrator William H. Harrison last night, requires every company to accept "do" orders and make delivery on time. Civilian work must be sidetracked if necessary.

Officials said they knew of no delays on munitions work thus far. But shortages of steel, copper, aluminum and other vital materials are expected to develop as the arms program picks up speed.

"Our national defense effort has first call on the nation's resources," Harrison said in announcing the priority order.

A manufacturer who receives a "do" contract may serve the rating on his suppliers, to obtain parts, raw materials and accessories; and the subcontractors in turn may use it on their suppliers.

Companies which already hold military orders are expected to flood the Pentagon with requests for that in the next few days, simply because it will insure them against any future breakdown in the flow of materials.

The production tool-kit now includes:

1. Defense loan guarantees, under which producers may apply to federal reserve banks or branches for the funds needed to swing big contracts, expand plants or buy new equipment. Government insurance of these loans is provided.

2. An inventory control order, barring the hoarding of key materials beyond normal, minimum working supplies.

3. Today's "NAP regulation No. 2," giving the military top claim on materials and plant capacity.

4. A slowly emerging allocation system, under which NPA will earmark certain tonnages of scarce materials for vital defense programs.

The coolest weather of the autumn season chilled most of the western part of the nation today but it was mild in the eastern and southern states.

Temperatures dipped as low as 19 above in Montana as the cold plains into the north central air spread southeastward from the northern Rockies and northern states. Readings were below freezing in many parts of the cool belt.

There were sharp drops over some of the east central states from yesterday's summer temperatures. Chicago's early morning low was in the low 40's as compared with a high of 83 yesterday.

Northwest Pacific and readings of the cold air extended into the near freezing were reported in some areas.

Light snow continued in southern Montana and showers preceded the eastern movement of the cold air. Fair weather was reported in other sections of the country. The worst autumn snowstorm on record hit southeastern Manitoba yesterday, with nearly five inches of snow at Winnipeg and seven inches at Gimli, 75 miles north.

Wildcat Strike Forces Ford Plant Idleness

Detroit, Oct. 4 —(P)— A wildcat strike by a small group of workers threatened today a gradual shutdown of Ford Motor Co. plants in the Detroit area and other parts of the nation.

The company said it could mean the eventual laying off of 125,000 employees.

The strike is in the steel rolling mill of the big River Rouge plant. Both the company and the CIO United Auto Workers said it was unauthorized.

Some 2,000 strikers defied a union order to return to work. In response to union radio appeals, several hundred workers reported at midnight for duty but not enough to permit resumption of operations at the rolling mill.

The strikers walked out to protest a decision that there are not entitled to premium pay for Saturday and Sunday work when the days fall within their regular five-day work week. The decision was made by Dr. Harry S. Shulman, impartial umpire under Ford's contract with the UAW.
